

Newly Accredited Public Relations Professionals

Patrick Hammond,
APR

Patrick Hammond has more than 20 years of experience as a public relations practitioner. His expertise spans a variety of fields including post-secondary education, human services, politics and international development. He is Manager of Communications for Operation Eyesight Universal which is dedicated to eliminating avoidable blindness.

Jeremy Berry,
APR

Jeremy Berry teaches public relations at the Faculty of Communication Studies at Mount Royal College. His experience includes communications management for the B.C. Ministry of Agriculture and Lands, as well as reporting for a media organization on Vancouver Island. He holds a Master of Arts in Professional Communication, a Diploma in Broadcasting and a Bachelor of Professional Arts.

Monique Chenier,
APR

Monique Chenier is a partner and senior public relations strategist with Fuse Creative Communications Inc., and holds a Marketing Management Certificate from the University of Calgary and a Bachelor of Interior Design degree from the University of Manitoba. She has more than 15 years of corporate and agency experience. Monique has been an active member of CPRS Calgary for more than a decade.

Kathryn Osterberg,
APR

Kathryn Osterberg supervises a team of professionals responsible for the strategic planning and implementation of communication initiatives for Corporate Properties & Buildings (CPB) at the City of Calgary. Kathryn has a BA in Communications from the Edward R. Murrow School of Journalism at Washington State University and a BFA in Acting from the University of Alberta. She currently serves on the CPRS Calgary Board of Directors.

Acquired through the Canadian Public Relations Society, the APR is the highest global professional standard of excellence in public relations.

New Inductee to CPRS College of Fellows

Nancy H. Arab,
APR, ABC, FCPRS

CPRS Calgary welcomes Nancy H. Arab as a recent inductee to the CPRS College of Fellows (FCPRS). Nancy has more than 25 years of experience in both communications and media; and has been responsible for internal and external communication for several major Canadian Companies. She is Director, Corporate Communications with the Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO). She has been an active volunteer with CPRS for more than 15 years and currently serves as president of CPRS Calgary.

The College of Fellows was established to recognize those CPRS members who have practised public relations for at least 20 years and have demonstrated exceptional contributions to the field of public relations in Canada.

The Canadian Public Relations Society, Inc.

CPRS is a non-profit professional society dedicated to the field of public relations, and serving Canadians through the establishment and maintenance of high professional, educational, and ethical standards.